

THE PROJECT

Hikma Pharmaceuticals is one of the leading pharmaceutical companies in the world.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

One of the world's largest pharmaceutical companies, Hikma Pharmaceuticals, have now completed their head office move to The Crown Estate's 1 New Burlington Place. Hikma appointed JAC to design and project manage the fit out for their new offices, following a move from their existing space on Hanover Square which could no longer support their expansion.

Built behind a Grade II listed Regent Street frontage, and with Savile Row to the rear, the One New Burlington Place development has regenerated a historic block to meet the needs of modern occupiers.

Working closely with the company's internal steering committee, the JAC Design and Furniture teams worked collectively to develop final design concepts, drawing inspiration from the existing architecture whilst taking into account Hikma's progressive nature and established brand guidelines.

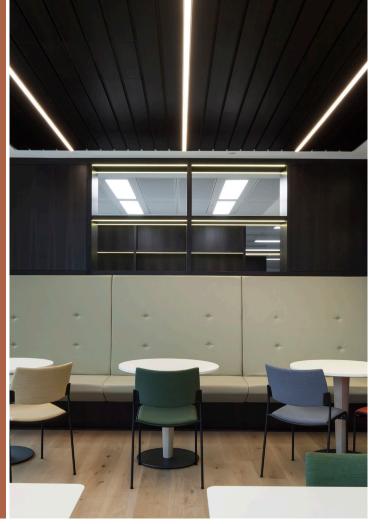

The stunning end result is a vibrant working environment, a beautifully strong workspace that encourages collaborative work and transparency which reflects Hikma's company culture.

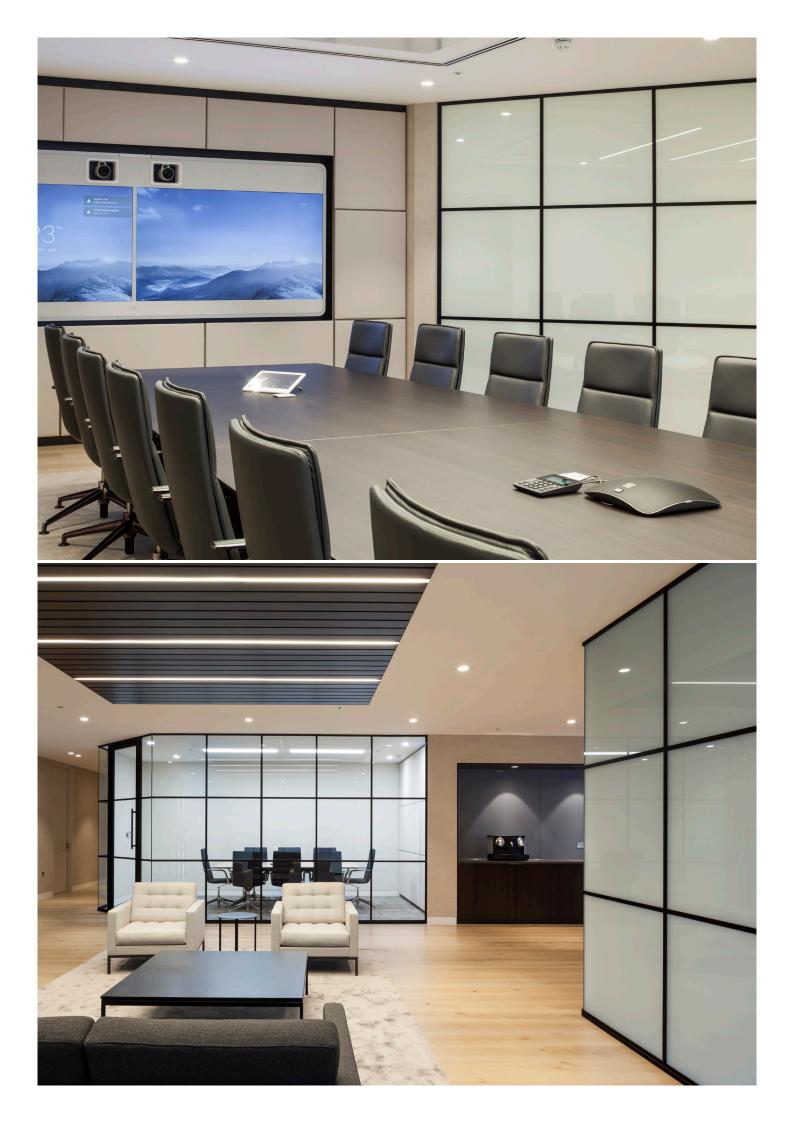

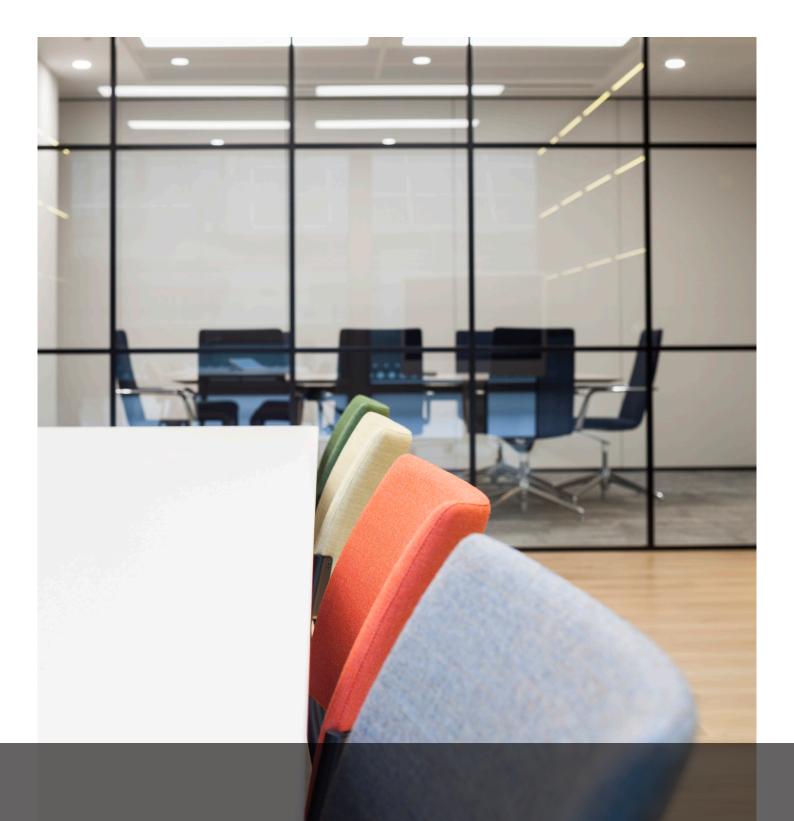

"We knew Hikma would be a great team to work with. These fantastic offices have been achieved following a lot of hard work by both the client and the professional team to bring together an innovative and sympathetic aesthetic that will reinforce Hikma's vision and support their growth in this wonderful development."
